RUSSIAN RIGAFLEET LEAVES MOON SOUND

Escaped Through Torturous Channels Between Moon Sound and the Gulf of Finland

ABANDONED 4 SHIPS WHICH HAVE RUN AGROUND

Doubtless the Destination of the Russian Fleet is Reval, the Russian Fortress Situated on the Gulf of Finland, in Northern Esthonia—The Germans Have Captured Dago Island and Also the Island of Scildau—British Naval Craft Have Heavily Bombarded the Port of Ostend—There Has Been Brisk Fighting Between the Italians and Austrians.

The Russian Riga fleet has started northward from Moon Sound, possibly with the intention of endeavoring to escape through the tortuous channels and maze of islands lying between them and the Gulf of Finland. Or, it is possible that the armada, although far inferior in gun power and tonnage, has sailed forth from the sheltered waters where it took refuge last week, to give battle to the dreadoughts and other craft comprising the German fleet.

The announcement of the sailing of the fleet is contained in the latest German official communication which says it left behind the wreck of the battleship Slava, which was sunk in last Wednesday's battle and four additional vessels which have run aground since the naval activities in the Gulf of Riga began. If the Russians are endeavoring to make their escape, instead of offering battle, doubtless their destination is Reval, the Russian fortress situated on the Gulf of Finland, in northern Esthonia. Meanwhile the Germans have captured in its entirety the island of Dago, lying at the southwestern entrance to the Gulf of Finland, and also the island of Scildau, situated between Moon Island, the Esthonia coast and the Gulf of Finland. Several hundred prisoners were taken on Dago Island, and be added to the large group captured during the past week on Oesel Island.

Monthly Installments of $25 Each Over a Period of Twenty Years—$25 Additional to Dependents as Compensation.

Washington, Oct. 21.—All hands in the military and naval service who perished with the lost American transport Antilles, torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine October 17, came within the scope of the new war insurance law, the treasury department announced tonight, and thereby automatically carried insurance to the amount of $6,000 each.

$25 Monthly for 20 Years.

This sum will be paid the families of the dead soldiers and sailors in monthly installments of $25 each over a period of twenty years. It is in addition to compensations which will be paid to widows, children and dependent mothers of the men. For example, will be paid $25 insurance and $25 compensation, a total of $50. While the $25 insurance is a fixed maximum, in cases where no application for insurance was made, the additional compensation varies from $20 for a motherless dependent child to a maximum of $75 for all dependents.

Automatic Insurance.

The insurance of $25 a month will be paid under the section of the law providing for automatic insurance to American soldiers, sailors and marines, without application, for 120 days after the publication of regulations providing for the issuance of policies. These regulations were published early in October and the time limit prescribed by law will not expire till February 12 next.

Approximately 70 persons went down with the Antilles. What percentage of this total is affected by the law at present is unknown but will be determined upon receipt of advice establishing the identity of those who perished. The number of soldiers has been established definitely at 15, but the status of many of the remaining dead is yet unknown to officials here.

Injured Will Share in Indemnities.

Not only will the families of the dead receive insurance and compensation, but those who were injured in any way while in the military or naval service, also will share in its publication for indemnities.

Application of the new law to the Antilles, the first case where any large number of casualties were involved, was pointed to tonight by treasury officials as a landmark in the history of why all persons who can should buy Liberty bonds.

To Come Out of Liberty Bonds.

"The money to pay both compensation and insurance," it was stated, "is expected to come in large measure from the sale of bonds of the second Liberty loan."

French Destroyed Four Zeppelins

THEY WERE RETURNING FROM RAID ON ENGLAND

THEY GOT LOST IN FOG

Five Mangled Bodies Were Found Around the Wreckage of One of the Destroyed Dirigibles—Four Other Zeppelins Escaped.

Paris, Oct. 21.—Although at first it was believed that the visit of the Zeppelin fleet to France yesterday was an independent raid and the first step toward carrying out the threat made in a German wireless message which said it had been decided to destroy Paris in reprisal for the trench air raids on German towns, it now is generally believed that these eight Zeppelins, four of which were destroyed or captured, were returning from England and had lost their bearings owing to fog and probably had lost touch with their wireless communications.

Zeppelins Ran Short of Gasoline.

The logbook of the Zeppelin which landed tonight shows that she had been to England, and prisoners from three other airships confirm this. One of the men captured said it was the want of gasoline that forced the Zeppelin to land. The raid is widely proclaimed by French observers as being definite proof of the superiority of the air plane over the Zeppelin. The day of the Zeppelin for bombardment, one expert says, is over. The sudden resumption of the use of the German dirigibles is explained by the theory that the raiding Zeppelins belonged to a new type which lately had been reported to be in the course of construction at Lake Constance. No reports have yet been received that any damage was done by the Zeppelins or that

FRENCH TOWNS SACKED BEYOND DESCRIPTION

"The need of an effective army to protect America from such atrocious conquest, as I have just seen in northern France and of such air raiding as I have witnessed in France, London now is the most imperative thing in the history of this country," he said. "The army must go over there and strike before the army from 'over there' gets an opportunity to come over here, or we are lost."

Dr. Powell declared that a state which befall the town of Chauny, in the Aisne department of France. The little city, he said, was of 10,000 inhabitants and almost from the moment of its founding in 1664, had been the center of glass manufacture. It came into the hands of the Teutons in the course of their invasion, but last June or July they evacuated it.

"The Germans were not content with the misery they already had caused," he said. "First they dismantled the glass factories, then they herded all the young women and young men into a parking space and selected the young men for service of one sort or another behind the lines. Then they lined up the young women, according to their physical beauty.
